

Urgent changes in economic and societal systems, aligned with mitigation and adaptation policies, can propel us towards a more sustainable world. Join us to discuss the challenges and opportunities that arise in transitioning to a dematerialized economy, balancing ecological concerns with social and subjective well-being.

interverranno:

- Stefano Bartolini (University of Siena)
- Mario Biggeri (University of Florence)
- Gianluca Brunori (University of Pisa)
- Simone D'Alessandro (University of Pisa)
- Tiziano Distefano (University of Florence)
- Elisa Giuliani (University of Pisa)
- Tommaso Luzzati (University of Pisa)
- Martijn Burger (Open Universiteit, Netherlands)
- Pedro Navarro (University of Pisa)
- Francesco Sarracino (STATEC, Luxembourg)

Friday
April 5th

2024 - 10:30

UNIVERSITÀ
DI PISA

Sala Convegni Polo Piagge,
Via G. Matteotti, 11 _ Pisa

Fairness and Wellbeing in a Dematerialized Economy]

Organized by project
"Wellbeing in a Dematerialize Economy: An RRI Conception"
(WIDE-ARC), funded by the call PRA (2022) University of Pisa

Please, register here:
<https://form.123formbuilder.com/6630791/fwde>